• Drones make killing all too easy. They make wars easier to initiate...and perpetuate. Do you really think drone use makes us safer?

• Drone targeting is indiscriminate. For every high-level adversary assassinated, non-combatants are killed.

• Drones are themselves instruments of terror: most victims are innocent civilians.

• Drone strike victims are not only those killed and maimed, but all of those left behind. Entire communities are destroyed.

• Drone pilots reportedly suffer high rates of PTSD. They often stalk their human targets for quite some time before “pulling the trigger.” They witness assassination and its aftermath up close and personal.

• Killing and maiming mostly civilians, drone attacks incite hatred, which has led to retaliatory strikes against U.S. “assets.”

• Drone deployment from U.S. military bases in New York State (Niagara, Hancock) expands the war zone to nearby civilian areas. Without our consent, upstate New York is the battleground.

• Drone strikes violate national sovereignty (Libya, Somalia, Yemen, Pakistan...), thereby undermining international law.

• Drone attacks provoke a drone arms race.

• Drones almost exclusively target Muslims and people of color.

• Drone deployment is cloaked in secrecy... thereby undermining democracy.
